

Amplify your workforce with AI

See how you can infuse AI at every step of your recruitment workflow, speed up your process, and turn day-to-day recruiter productivity gains into profitability for your business — all without adding headcount.

Introducing Bullhorn Automation Agents Edition

Bullhorn is combining AI and automation to complete tasks on behalf of recruiters, tackling work that requires human expertise but slows them down. From intelligent screening to automated job matching and personalized messaging at scale, Bullhorn's AI agents free recruiters up to focus on what matters most—building relationships and making more placements.

Enrichment Agents

Automatically update countless fields in your database by pulling data from job descriptions, resumes, and more.

Messaging Agents

Engage candidates and clients with auto-generated, personalized outreach. From follow-ups to interview reminders, you can craft messages that feel human, at scale.

Matching Agents

Instantly match the right candidates to the right jobs with AI-powered precision. No more guesswork—just perfect fits, faster.

Screening Agents

Engage candidates in real time and quickly screen them for roles with AI-powered conversations. Ask the right questions, get the right answers, and fast-track top talent.
